To the Homesteader Team,

Sending along a note of thanks... 2 THUMBS UP for The Homesteader!!! Advertising with your publication has been one of the best investments we've made since starting our business this past Spring. As a new construction company we wanted an effective and affordable way of reaching new homeowners in the community. The Homesteader gives us the ability to reach our target market every month and from day one we have not been disappointed. The Reader Feedback you send us serves as an incredible networking tool and consistently shows our ad is working.

We're always happy to see copies of The Homesteader available throughout town. Looks like you guys have your eyes on the ball... KEEP UP THE GREAT WORK!!!

In these difficult economic times we are grateful to be associated with such a professional and helpful organization that continually meets our needs... and then some.

We highly recommend marketing with The Homesteader to any business looking for a cost effective way to grow their business as we have grown ours.

All the best,
